Hi folks,

Please see the email below. I haven't had a chance to go through their documents yet, but this is a city entity looking to create a list of resources identified for Los Angeles' Japanese American historic context/resources - so a list of people, places, events, significant dates, and so on. Some of you may have been at this past weekend's meeting at Union Church where they gathered community input on this list - they are now looking for community members to review the list and add in missing details.

If you have time and are able to look through and add these missing pieces, that would be great! it would be nice to have all the many special elements of our community (both LT and the broader JA community) accurately represented in this survey. Thanks to LTHS folks for doing outreach on this past weekend's meeting and working with SurveyLA on the project!

-Kristin

Hello Kristin,

I'm sorry you were unable to attend the meeting on Saturday. We had a little over 20 people at the meeting and yes we're still able to take input. In fact, we'd greatly appreciate your participation as we need help verifying that we have not missed anything in identifying buildings or sites that are still extant. Would you review the known resources list and bibliography and let us know if we are missing details? For example, if you know of another resource that should be listed in the bibliography but currently isn't. This review from key members of the community is crucial as we want to make sure we apply and/or develop the correct themes to evaluate all of the resources identified.

I've attached all the documents we shared at the meeting. Please let me know if you have any questions. Though we will take information at any time you are able to provide it, we'd like to receive information for the Japanese American context by the end of June.

Best,
Sara

Thanks for sharing this with me, Sara. How was the turnout this past weekend? And what's the timeline for your project? If you're still in collecting input phase, it might be good to get you to present to one of our LTCC meetings - we have committee meetings third Wednesdays (3pm) and General Council meetings on fourth Tuesdays (11:45am). I'd like to make sure there is a wide body of stakeholders represented in the feedback you are gathering.

Thanks!

Hello Kristin,

Please see the attached flyers for the upcoming community meeting for SurveyLA's Japanese American Historic Context Community Meeting.

I can share the meeting materials once they become available. The materials will include a list of identified resources, identified significant individuals, as well as sites and the presentation slides from the meeting.

Please let me know if you have any questions.
